The Sunday Times bestseller returns for a fourth book! Alfie and his mischievous kitten George are back for more adventures – this time taking them a long way from home...

Alfie and George just can't seem to keep out of trouble. So when they hear that their owners have got a new holiday home, they can't wait to visit it and enjoy some new adventures.

But when they arrive, they don't find the comfort they're used to. Crumbling walls, peeling paint, dripping ceilings...this little Cornish cottage is clearly on its last legs.

Family and friends rally round to try and save the cottage – but it soon becomes clear that the locals don't want them there at all. It's up to Alfie and George to make sure their family is welcomed into the village – that's if they can keep out of the way of the nastiest cat they've ever encountered...
